P TERSBURG. YOUNG SENTENCED TO THE PENITENCIARY: BIS COUNSEL DECLINE TO ASK FOR A NEW TRIAL AND SUBMIT TO THE VERD CT-PELO-MOUS ASSAULT BY A WOMAN-VISIT TO LYSCHEURG-PEANUT MARKET--A PLEASANT

[Correspondence of the Richmond Dispatch,] JANUARY 21, 1880.

When the Hustings Court met this mornwhen the Hustings Coole fact this morning, Captain R. G. Pegram, of counsel for James M. Young, convicted yesterday of the murder of George Hinton, arose and stated that after mature reflection and consideration of all the circumstances attending the case, and after follownference with his colleagues, had been decided not to submit a motion for a new trial for his client. Whatever might be the opinions of himself and colleagues as to the severity of the verdict, yet the prisoner had received a fair trial at the bands of an henest, intelligent, and unprejudeed jury, and their judgment would nacco pay oner would therefore yield submissively to the verdect and receive his sentence.
